F. Opinions Below	18
The Questions Presented Are Substantial	20
I. The Twenty-first Amendment to the Constitu- tion of the United States does not validate a New York statute which levies its major eco- nomic burden on the operations of the distilled spirits industry in other states and which does not promote temperance or check evils peculiar to the trade in alcoholic beverages in New York	20
II. The provisions of Section 9 requiring distillers and wholesalers to offer New York purchasers a price no higher than the lowest price charged

elsewhere violate the policy and terms of federal antitrust acts and are thus in conflict with the supremacy clause of the Constitution of the United States -----	30
III. Section 9 of Chapter 531, 1964 New York Session Laws, places an undue and illegal burden on interstate commerce -----	39
IV. The provisions of the new act requiring distillers and wholesalers to offer New York purchasers a price no higher than the lowest price given elsewhere are not justified under the state's police power and are hence a violation of due process of law guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States -----	44
A. Section 9 is not in Furtherance of a Valid Police Power Objective -----	44
B. Section 9 is Arbitrary and Unreasonable --	51
C. Section 9 is Intolerably Vague -----	56
V. The no higher than the lowest price provisions of Section 9 of Chapter 531, 1964 New York Session Laws, deny appellants equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States -----	60
VI. Certain provisions of Section 7 of Chapter 531, 1964 New York Session Laws, also violate the federal constitution -----	62
Conclusion -----	64
